CF & SCHOOL

1 Students with CF should have an Individualized Education Program (IEP) or 504 accommodation plan. These tell teachers and the school how to deal with things like:

- Medical treatments (taking pancreatic enzymes, blood sugar checks, breathing treatments, etc)
- Bathroom use
- Being able to eat extra snacks
- All of the above

2 Students with CF may qualify for a 504 plan or IEP because they:

- May miss school due to their CF
- Are smarter than those without CF
- Are small for their age
- None of the above

3 A 504 plan or IEP may include:

- Being able to do school work by internet or video
- Not ever having to do homework
- Not ever having to go to school
- Being able to skip school whenever you want

4 Which of these would not be included in a CF student's 504 plan or IEP?

- Having special time to take medicines and do airway clearance therapy
- Getting homework from teachers when sick or in the hospital
- Getting water or snacks as often as needed
- Not having to take math

5 You, your parents or guardian, and your school should review or change your 504 plan or IEP:

- Every month
- Once a year
- Every 5 years
- None of the above

6 Who can help answer questions about the 504 plan or IEP at school?

- Nurse
- Teacher
- School counselor or special education teacher
- Any of the above

7 True or false? No more than one person with CF can attend the same school.

- True
- False
